#	Business	Angle	Format	Ratio	Hook (first line or first 3 seconds)	What the viewer sees	On-screen text	CTA	Score	Feedback
1	LFG Gym, Himayatnagar	Trainer attention after you pay (VOC pain)	Reel (15 sec)	9:16	0-3 sec: a beginner doing a wrong squat; text "Doing this alone?"	3-10 sec: an LFG trainer walks in and corrects the squat. 10-15 sec: the member smiling, doing it right. 2	EKAM IAS Academy	Test series marks have improved	Before / after	9:16	in a image - before (Ravi) Prelims Paper-1 : 62 | after: 87	scores improved after joining test series at EKAMIAS	Results of Students who joined EKAMIAS testseries	Book you first UPSC style test series(register now)	6/10	Strong angle (real results are the best proof). Fix: a static before/after belongs in the feed (4:5), not 9:16. The hook must be the exact words on the image. Scores need a real student with written consent. CTA has a typo and isn't a Meta button.
2 corrected	↳ Corrected version	Real score improvement after weekly mock tests + feedback	Before / after	4:5	On the image: "Prelims Paper 1: 62 → 87 in [X] weeks"	*Split image. Fix: the angle should say why it helps the business. The hook column describes the post instead of giving its first line. "Click here" is a weak CTA. Static feed images should be 4:5.

Fix: plan the 30 seconds scene by scene, show a real answer being marked, keep on-screen text short, and make the CTA a clear button + offer.
4 corrected	↳ Corrected version	Personal answer-writing feedback (our gap vs big institutes)	Reel (30 sec)	9:16	0-3 sec: a mentor's red pen circling an answer; text "This is where you're losing marks"	3-10 sec: mentor marks a real answer copy: "No intro", "No example". 10-24 sec: 3 fixes on screen: 1) 2-line intro 2) add a fact or example 3) end with a way forward. 24-30 sec: mentor to camera.	Losing marks in Mains? 3 fixes in 30 seconds.	Book a free 10-minute answer review (Book Now button)		Changed: scene-by-scene plan, show don't tell, short on-screen text, simple CTA
5	LFG Gym, Himayatnagar	Trainers not only correct your posture and helps you build personalized workout plan they also teach you calisthenics	Reel (15 sec)	9:16	0-3 sec: want to impress everyone in gym and get in the peak that your body achieve?	3-15 sec : trainer explains how to do calistinins from very basic .	At LFG gym , trainer not only correct your posture and helps you build personalized workout plan they also teach you calisthenics	Book your free trial at LFG(Book Now button)	6/10	Good format and a fresh idea. Fix: three ideas in one angle (posture + plan + calisthenics); keep one. The hook is vague and long. On-screen text is too long for a 15-sec reel. "Free trial" and calisthenics classes must be confirmed with LFG, so bracket them.

Plan each card. Slot booking on a website must be confirmed with LFG. "Hustle" should be "hassle". The CTA offer is invented and unclear.
6 corrected	↳ Corrected version	Crowd-free training: no waiting for machines (VOC pain)	Carousel	4:5	Card 1: "Waiting for machines at 7 PM?"	Card 1: crowded rack, people waiting. Card 2: "Book your slot before you come" [confirm LFG offers slot booking]. Card 3: "Train without the queue" with an empty rack. Card 4: offer + CTA.	No queue. No wasted evenings.	Book your [trial offer] (Book Now button)		Changed: carousel ratio 4:5, card-by-card plan, hassle (not hustle), unconfirmed features in [brackets], simple CTA

Overall: 6.4/10. Good ideas from your research (VOC pains, positioning gap). Main gaps: format rules (ratios), writing the hook as real words, one idea per concept, and bracketing offers you haven't confirmed.

Lessons to remember

1. Ratios: feed images 4:5 (or 1:1); reels and stories 9:16; carousels 4:5 or 1:1, never 9:16.
2. The Hook column holds the exact first words or first 3 seconds, not a description of the post.
3. One concept = one idea. If the angle has "and" or "also", split it.
4. On-screen text: under 10 words for a reel.
5. Offers, features and results you haven't confirmed with the client go in [brackets]; real people need written consent.
6. CTA = a Meta button + what they get (e.g. "Book a free 10-minute answer review"), never "click here".
